ABOUT ONSIREN

OnSiren is a UK-based signal platform for the licensed security workforce. It combines a personal safety application for frontline officers with a private network platform for the organisations that employ them, connecting workers, employers, and incident escalation contacts through a single real-time layer. OnSiren Limited is headquartered in London, UK and was founded in 2026.

This boilerplate may be lifted verbatim into any article once placeholders in square brackets have been replaced.

WHAT ONSIREN DOES

Real-time radio. Encrypted in transit (DTLS-SRTP) push-to-talk for on-shift security officers, organised by venue and zone.

Incident alerts. One-tap broadcast of emergency and warning signals to nearby officers with location context.

AI dispatcher (“Alpha1”). A voice assistant that briefs officers on shift start and surfaces operational reference material on request. Informational only; does not make decisions about workers.

Workforce identity. SIA licence verification at registration.

Built for UK security. Designed around UK private security workflow and UK data-protection requirements.
